Serve. Bump. Set. Spike. The ball crosses the net with every play — and the rally only ends when someone can't dig it up.

GAMEPLAY

Each card is a real volleyball touch. A rally starts with a Serve — pair it with any card to set its power, and a big serve becomes an ace threat only a Bump can receive. The defender must play a card whose Defense meets the incoming attack, then build their answer in true volleyball order: Bump → Set → Spike, chaining attack values into a single strike that crosses the net. Stop early and float a free ball, or go all-in for a monster spike. After every play, refill your 3-card hand from an open market or the face-down deck. First to 3 points wins.

WHAT MAKES IT UNIQUE?

- The sport is the system. Volleyball's touch order isn't theme paint — it's the core mechanic. If you learned the game, you learned the sport.
- A push-your-luck dilemma every rally: burn your best Spike on a killer serve, or save it for the full combo?
- Real side-out tension: the receiving player draws an extra card, mirroring volleyball's serve-receive advantage.
- No death spirals: lose a point and your whole hand resets — every rally is winnable.
- Tiny footprint, tiny cost: 31 cards, no board, no tokens. Plays anywhere in 15 minutes.
