Learn it in two minutes: if you know volleyball's bump-set-spike, you already know the rules. Every rally ends in a point — no downtime, no upkeep, no board.

Serve. Bump. Set. Spike. Every card is a touch on the ball — and the rally only ends when someone can't dig it up.

HOW A RALLY PLAYS

No card strong enough to dig it up? Point! First to 3 points wins the match.

WHAT MAKES IT UNIQUE?

- The sport is the system. Volleyball's touch order isn't theme paint — it's the core mechanic. Learn the game, learn the sport.
- A push-your-luck dilemma every rally: burn your best Spike on a killer serve, or save it for the full combo?
- No death spirals: lose a point and your whole hand resets — every rally is winnable, every match stays close.
- Tiny footprint, tiny cost: 31 cards, no board, no tokens. Plays anywhere in 15 minutes.

DEVELOPMENT STATUS

Fully playable browser prototype — local and online multiplayer, bilingual (EN / PT-BR) — plus a complete rulebook. Room to grow: doubles mode, league play, advanced serve cards.
